AGENDA

WORLD YOUTH SKILLS DAY

Career Guidance for Young Minds

On the occasion of World Youth Skills Day, NavvKhush Helping Foundation, in collaboration with the White Board Foundation, conducted a career guidance and creative learning workshop at Good Works Trust (Genuine NGO).

Approximately 50 children participated in the programme and received guidance on career awareness, skills development and future planning.

Helping Children Think About Their Future

The interactive career guidance session encouraged children to:

- Explore their interests and aspirations
- Understand the importance of skills alongside education
- Learn about different career possibilities
- Think about their strengths and abilities
- Become more aware of future opportunities

Our Approach

The objective was not simply to suggest careers, but to help children understand their own interests, strengths and possibilities

“When a child gets the opportunity to learn, they get the opportunity to dream.”

CREATIVE LEARNING WORKSHOP

Learning Through Creativity

To complement the career guidance session, a drawing competition was organised as a creative learning activity. Drawing provided children with an opportunity to express their imagination, ideas and creativity in a fun and engaging environment

The activity encouraged children to participate confidently and explore their artistic abilities. It also created a joyful learning experience beyond traditional classroom activities.

Why Creative Learning Matters
